

VIDEO RELEASES

ROBO

The time: the near future.
The place: Detroit.

The police are on strike, the citizens of the city easy prey for gangs of heavily armed hoodlums roaming the streets addicted to a powerful new drug known as 'nuke'. Omni Consumer Products prepares to take the city into private ownership.

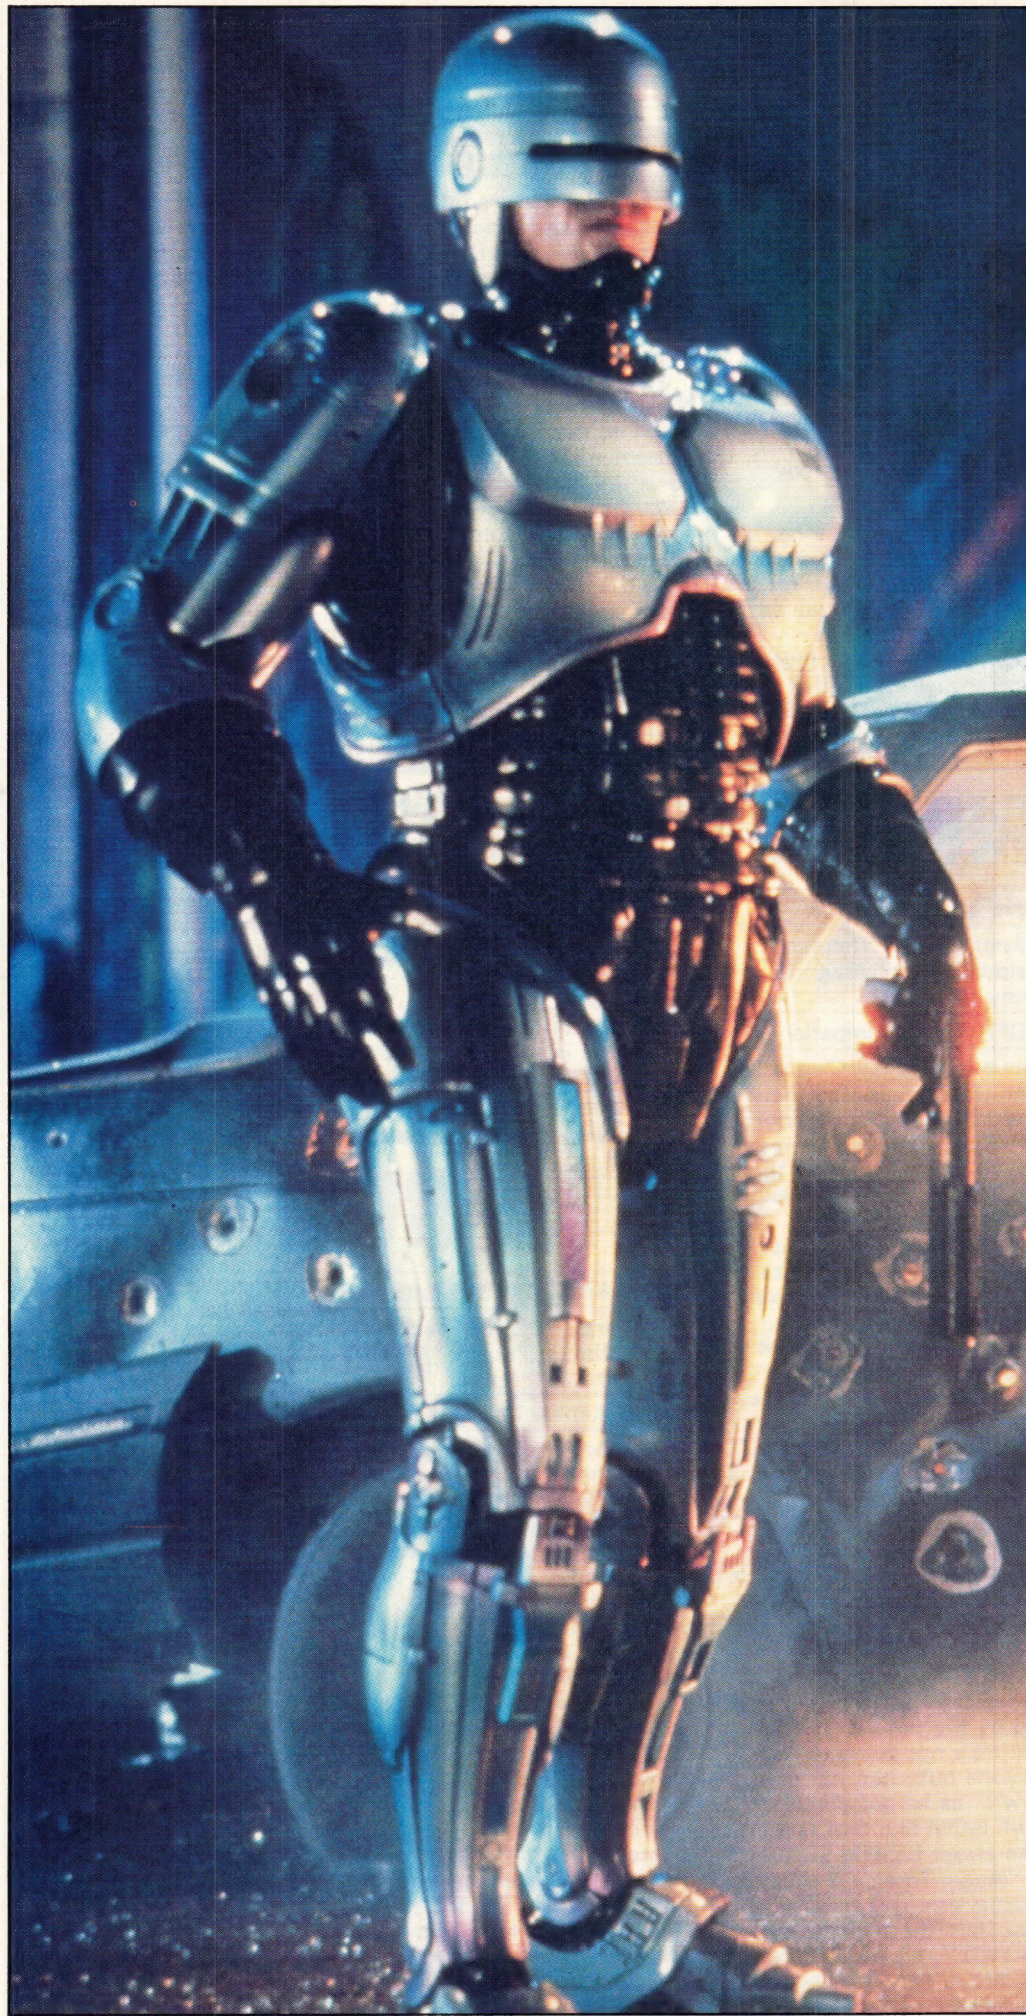

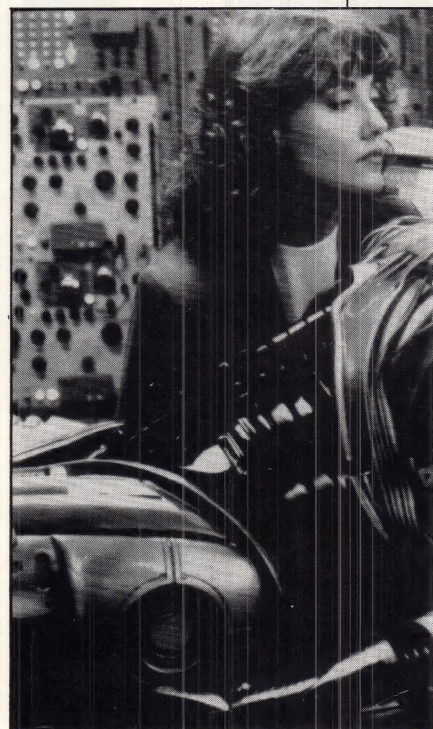

Only one thing can save the city from total devastation—Robocop (Peter Weller), the law enforcement cyborg half man, half machine—but OCP in the form of Old Man (Dan O'Herlihy) and nasty 'nuke' dealer Cain (Tom Noonan) has other ideas in the stunning sequel to the original, "Robocop 2" (MCEG Virgin Vision)...

He assigns beautiful scientist Dr Faxx (Belinda Bauer) to develop a second Robocop incapable of fighting crime and reprogrammes Robo when Cain's gang cut him into scrap metal.

Will he live to fight another day and rid Detroit of the much-hated Omni Consumer Products company?

See the film for yourself to find out!

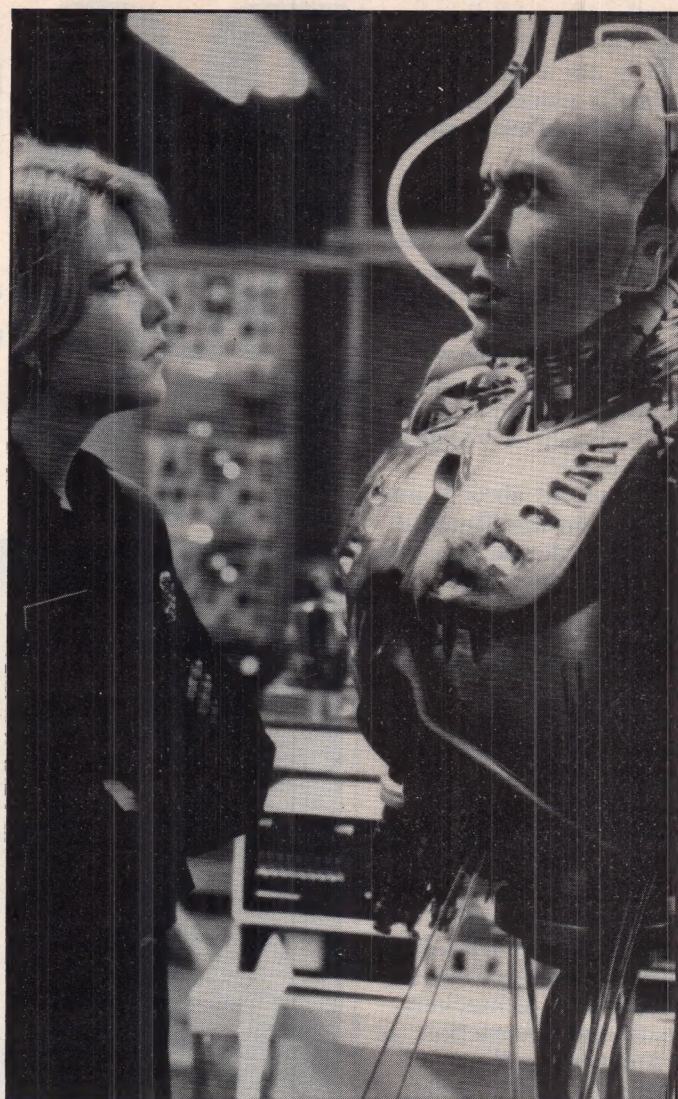

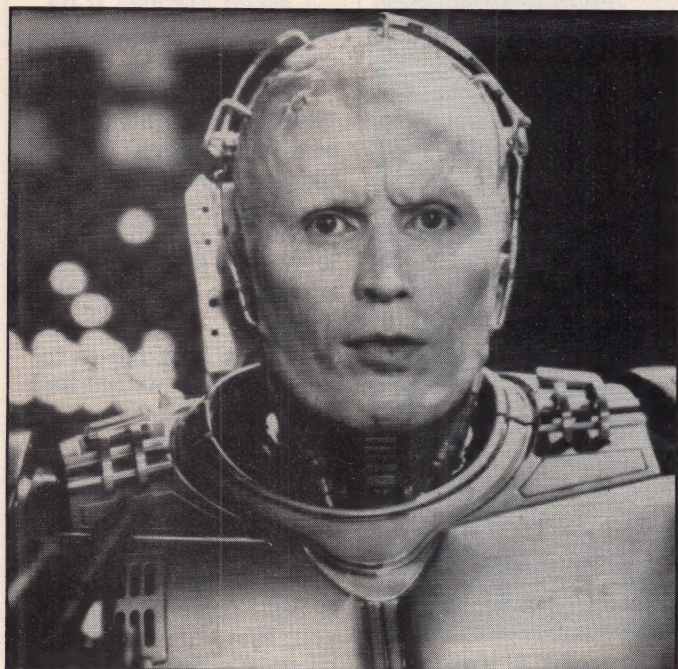

With great performances from Peter Weller as Robocop and Nancy Allen as his feisty sidekick Lewis, "Robocop 2" looks like being the action sensation of the Spring!

ROBOCOP 2

18

The cyborg man/machine cop returns

51

Opposite page: continuing his war against Detroit's Nuke Kingpin Cain, Robocop on the rampage again. Above right: Robocop's partner Anne Lewis (Nancy Allen) talks to the half re-built cyborg. Left: Peter Weller as Robocop. Below right: Robocop dismembered. Below left: Dr Faxx (Belinda Bauer) puts the cop together again.

